

ADRIPASS PLUS

Integrating multimodal connections in the Adriatic-Ionian region

Second meeting of the ADRIPASS Transnational Cooperation Network

9 June 2022

Online Meeting (Zoom Platform)

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The ADRIPASS project focused on analyzing physical and non-physical barriers along the TEN-T transport networks in the EUSAIR area with particular attention posed to the analysis of the Border crossing points in the Western Balkans and to ICT solutions to improve maritime-hinterland multimodality. Following three years of fruitful cooperation among partners, in December 2020 the project was successfully finalized, delivering concrete results supporting the enhancement of multimodal transport in the ADRION region.

Following the approval of the ADRIPASS PLUS capitalization project, a first meeting of the ADRIPASS Transnational Cooperation Network (TCN) took place on 2nd March 2022 with the aim of updating the long-term strategy for the improvement of the maritime-hinterland connectivity in the Adriatic Ionian region, thus contributing to delivering concrete inputs to reduce cross-border barriers and consequently getting ADRION region more connected.

Based on the feedbacks received by stakeholders during the first ADRIPASS TCN meeting as well as taking into account recent updates at national and transnational level, the ADRIPASS project partners have worked on the update of the transnational strategy to be presented and discussed during the event.
